

Calamity Jane

Calamity Jane sometimes lived in early Billings. She had a cabin north of Laurel. She kept and sold horses.

She was a rootin' tootin' shootin' gal. Sometimes she shot her gun up in the air just for fun. She rode her horse and shot her gun in some wild west shows.

Calamity Jane sometimes dressed like a man and did men's work. She could drink, and swear, and smoke. She helped many people when they were sick or hurt or hungry. Calamity was quite a gal!
